Maintaining Sustainability Through Innovation

Veolia's Sustainability Report

Our latest report highlights our continued commitment to recycling harmful solvents, harnessing biomass energy, collecting hazardous materials, and cutting carbon waste. Last year we reduced carbon emissions by 500,000 metric tons, and we look forward to even more success in the future.

"As the world's largest environmental solutions company, we are uniquely positioned—and committed—to help make great strides on this front. It is who we are," said CEO Bill DiCroce.
